Famous quote. If it takes up too much space on the mobile phone screen then it will be hidden.

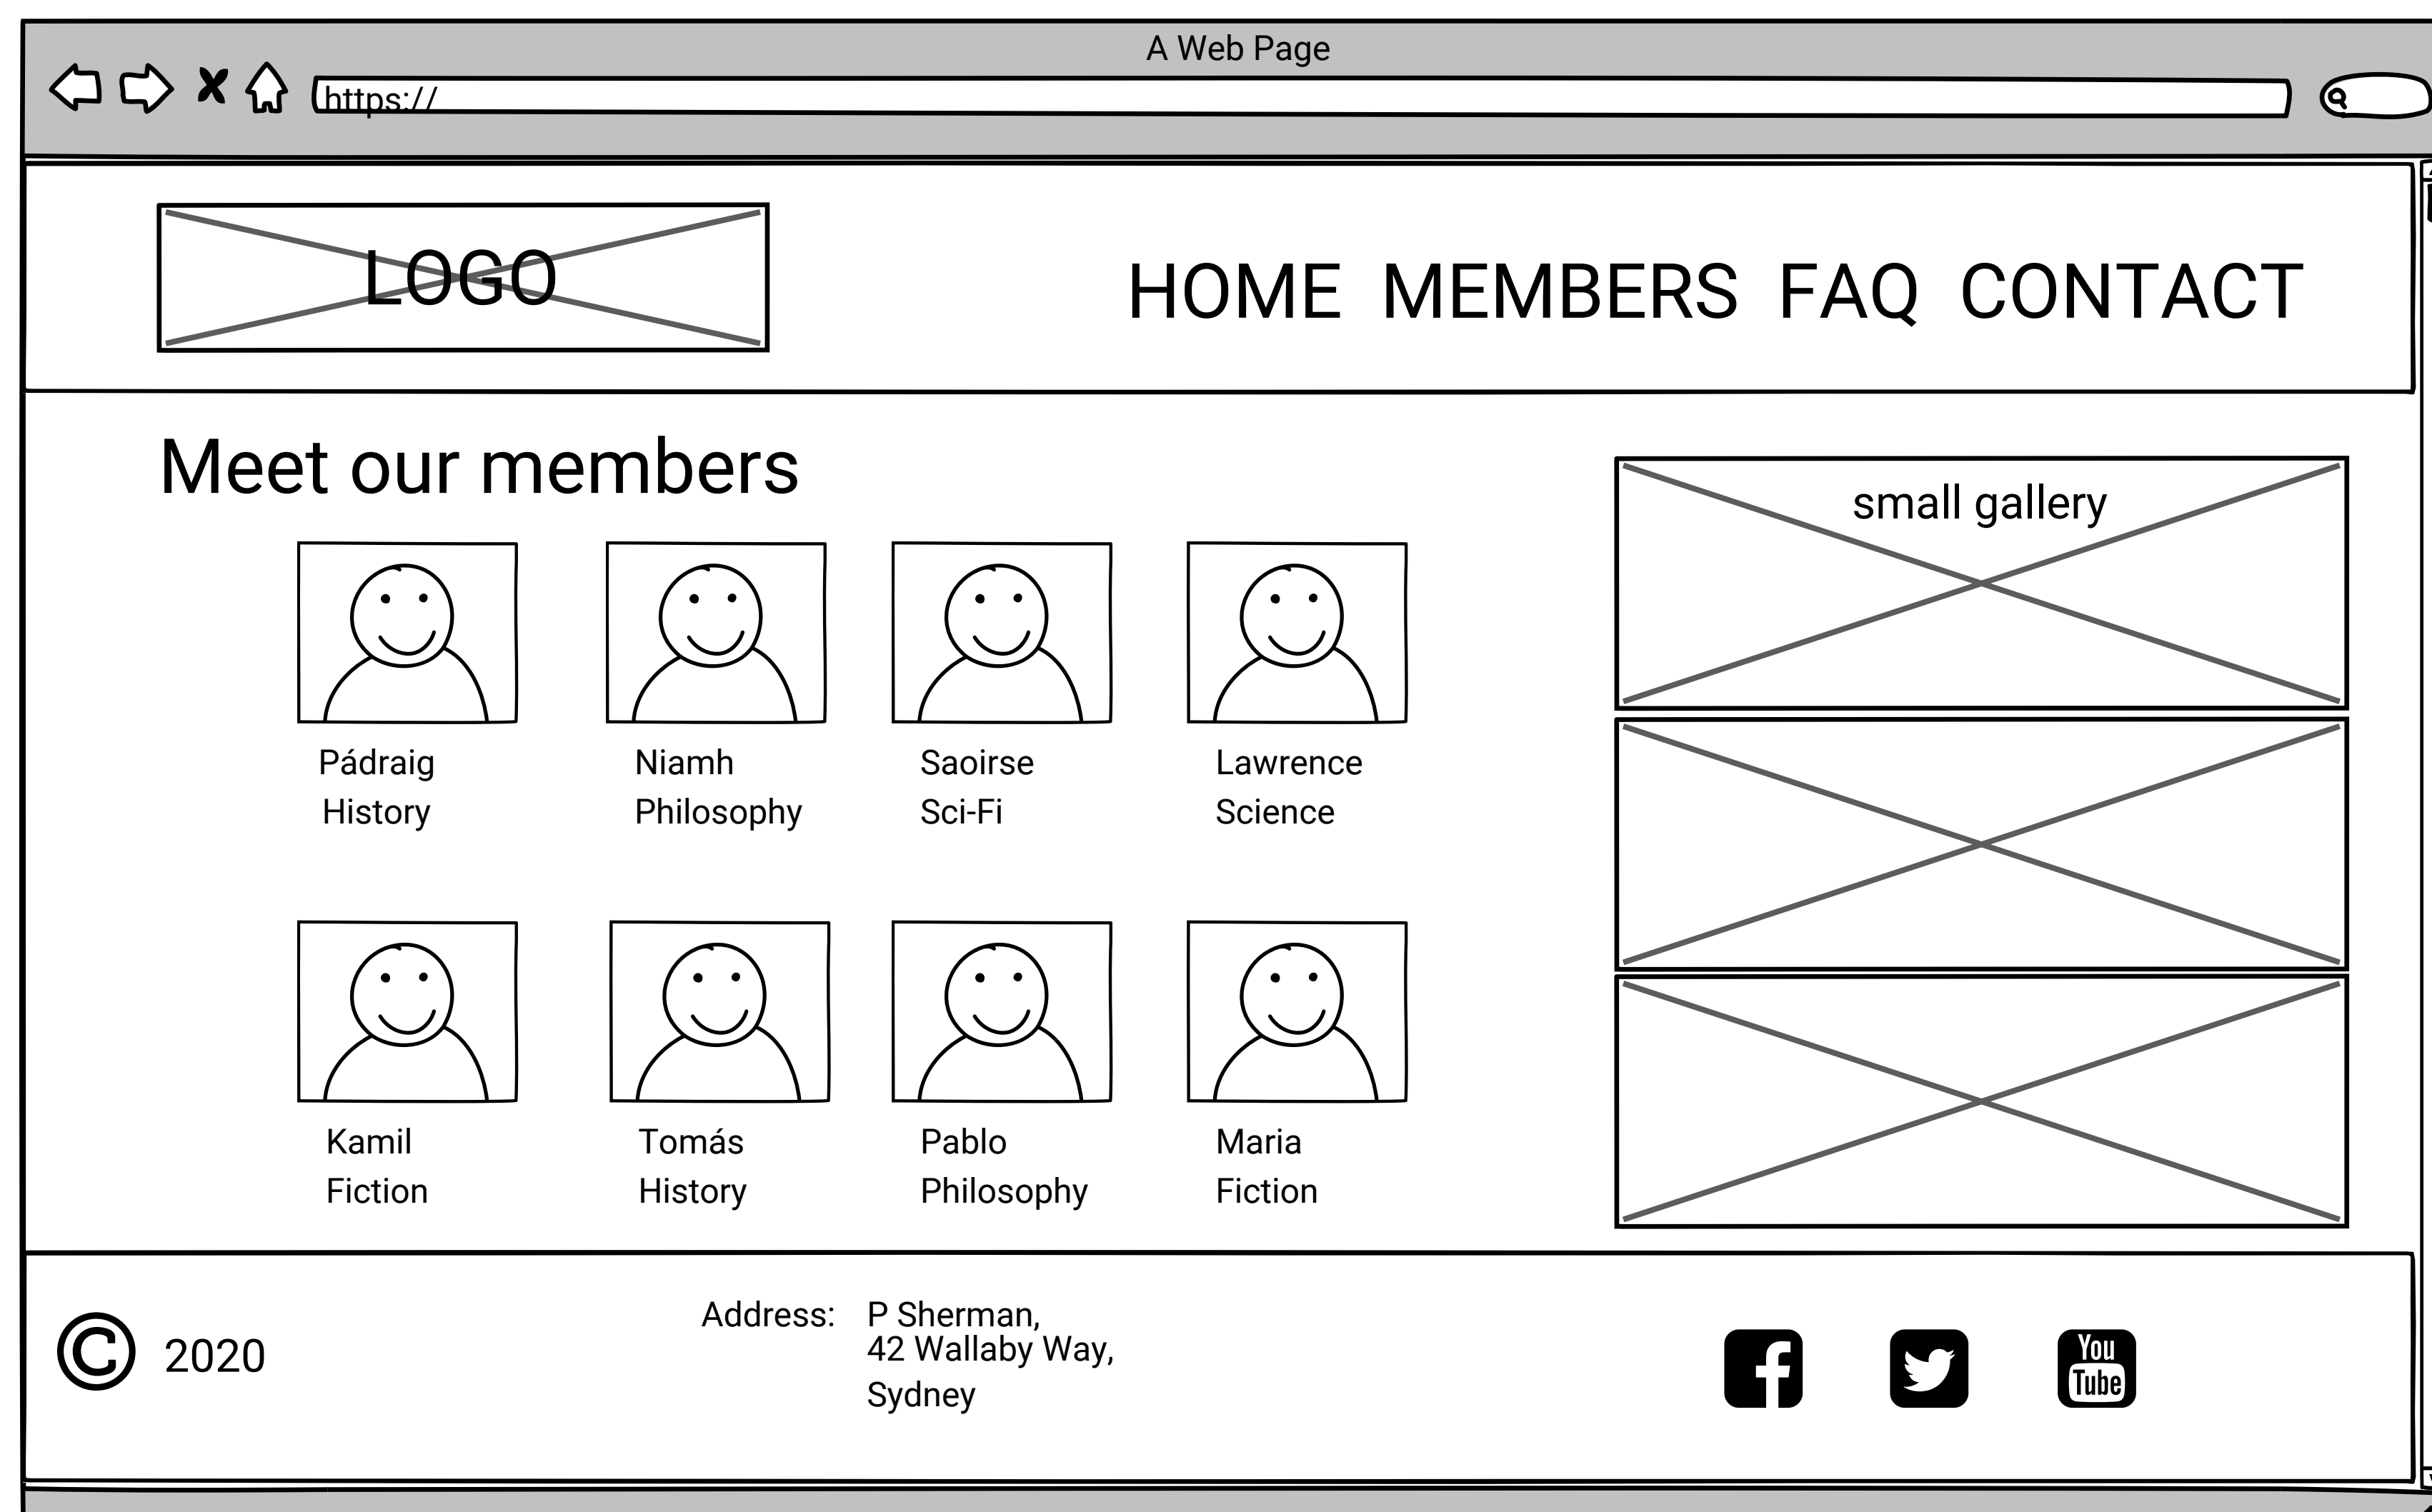

A carousel featuring the books that will be discussed at the next meetings. It will contain an image of the book cover, the title of the book, the author, the meeting date, and the meeting time. The "learn more" button will be a hyperlink to a page similar to the homepage except the content below the carousel will be replaced with more details on the book. Such as a synopsis and a photo of the author.

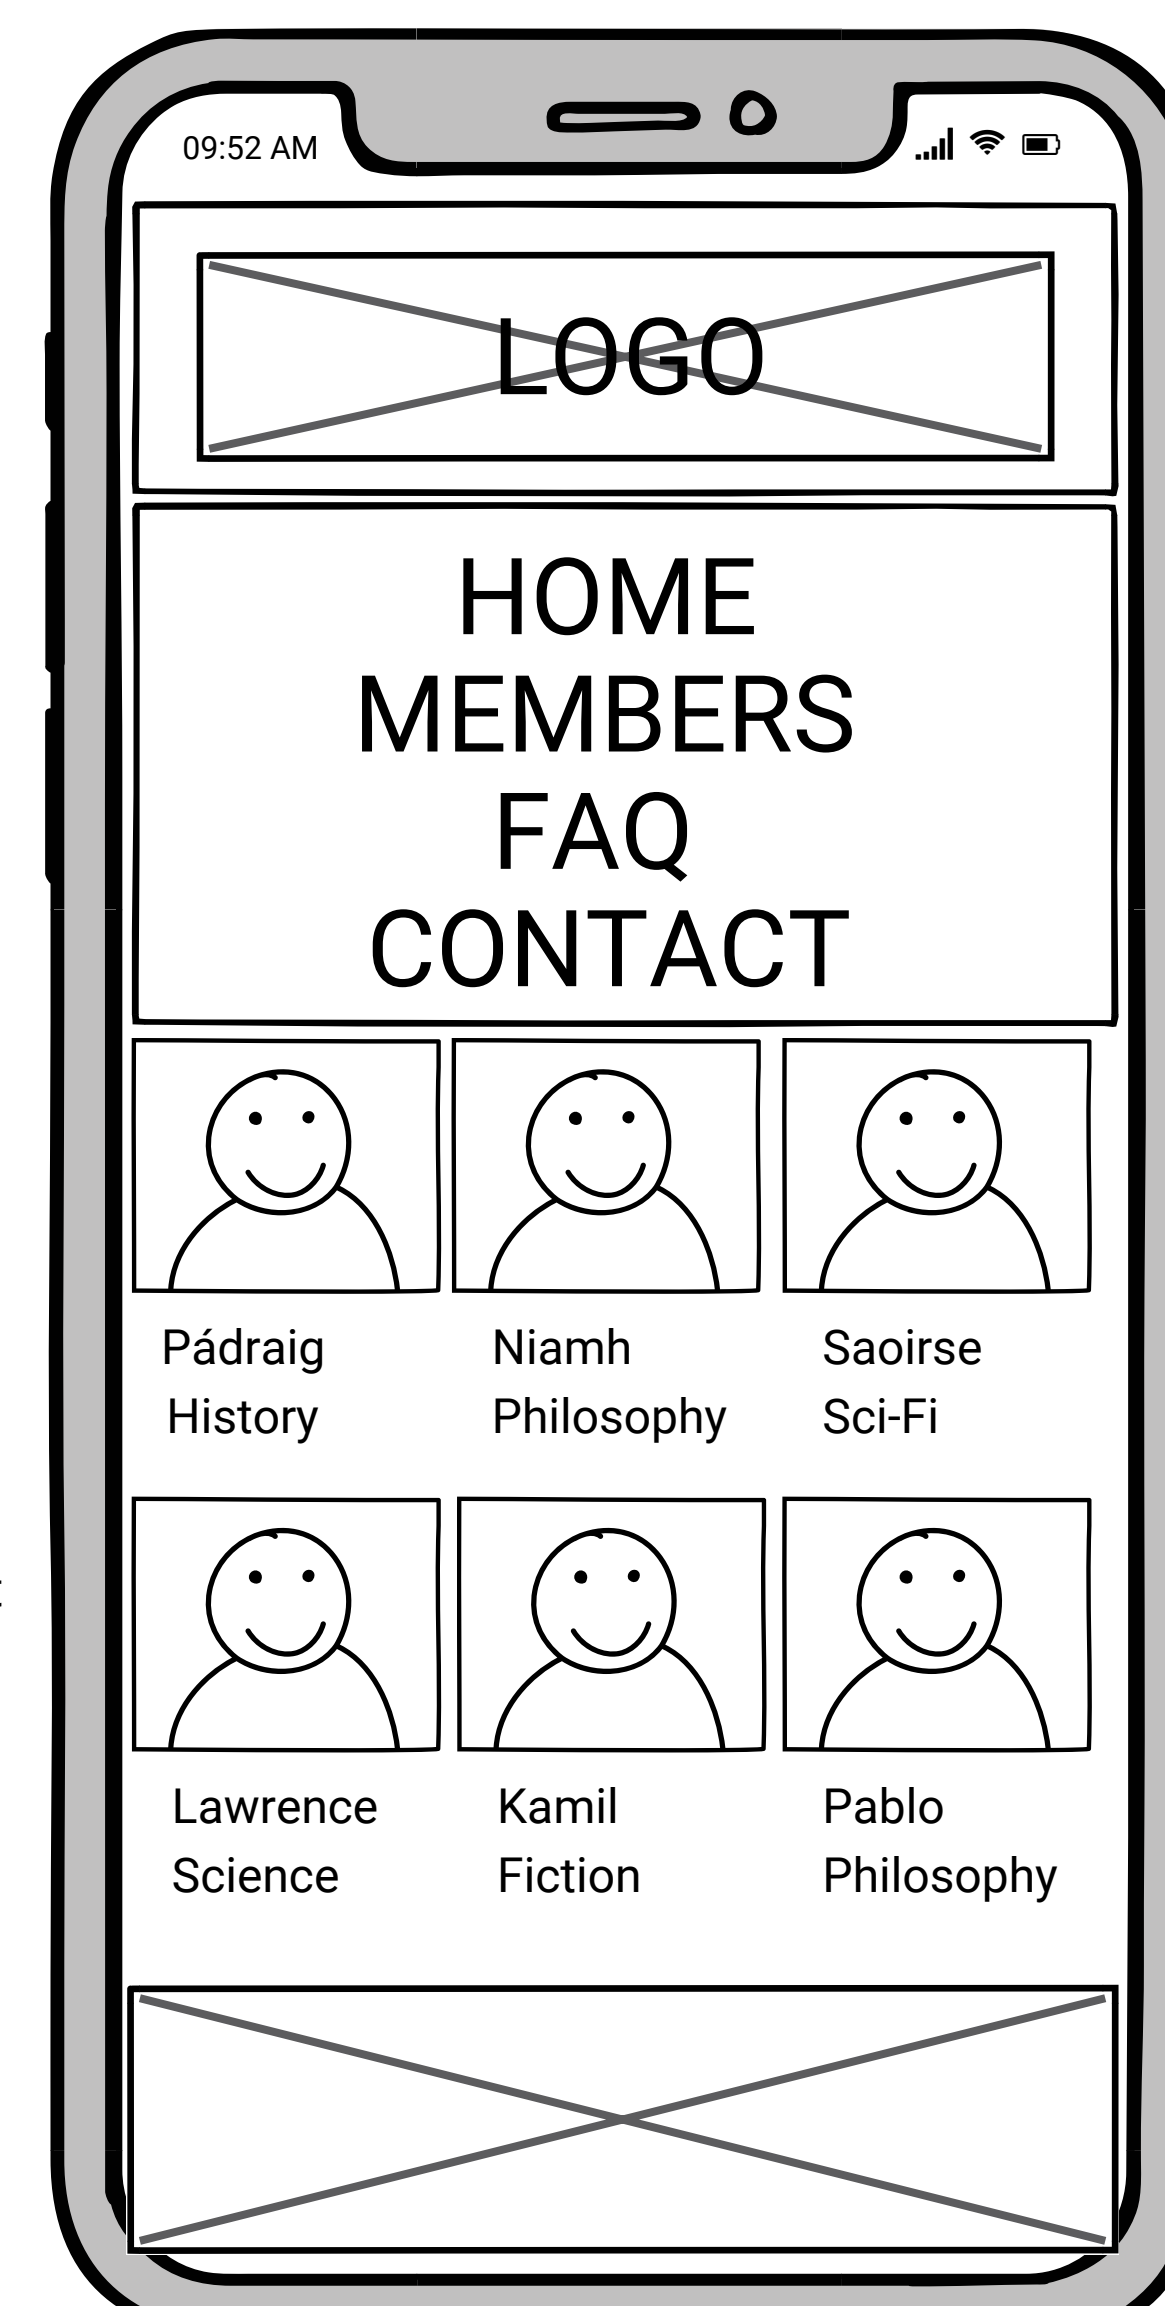

Below the carousel will contain the "Who we are" section that will highlight the purpose of the website. It advertises the book club to people who are interested in joining a book club and find out more information about it. Why they should join this book club over others, such as online only clubs. "Where we meet" will explain where the members meet and a description of the premises that hosts the club. "Quotes" will feature some pleasant reviews from people who have joined the club and believe it worthwhile for others to join.

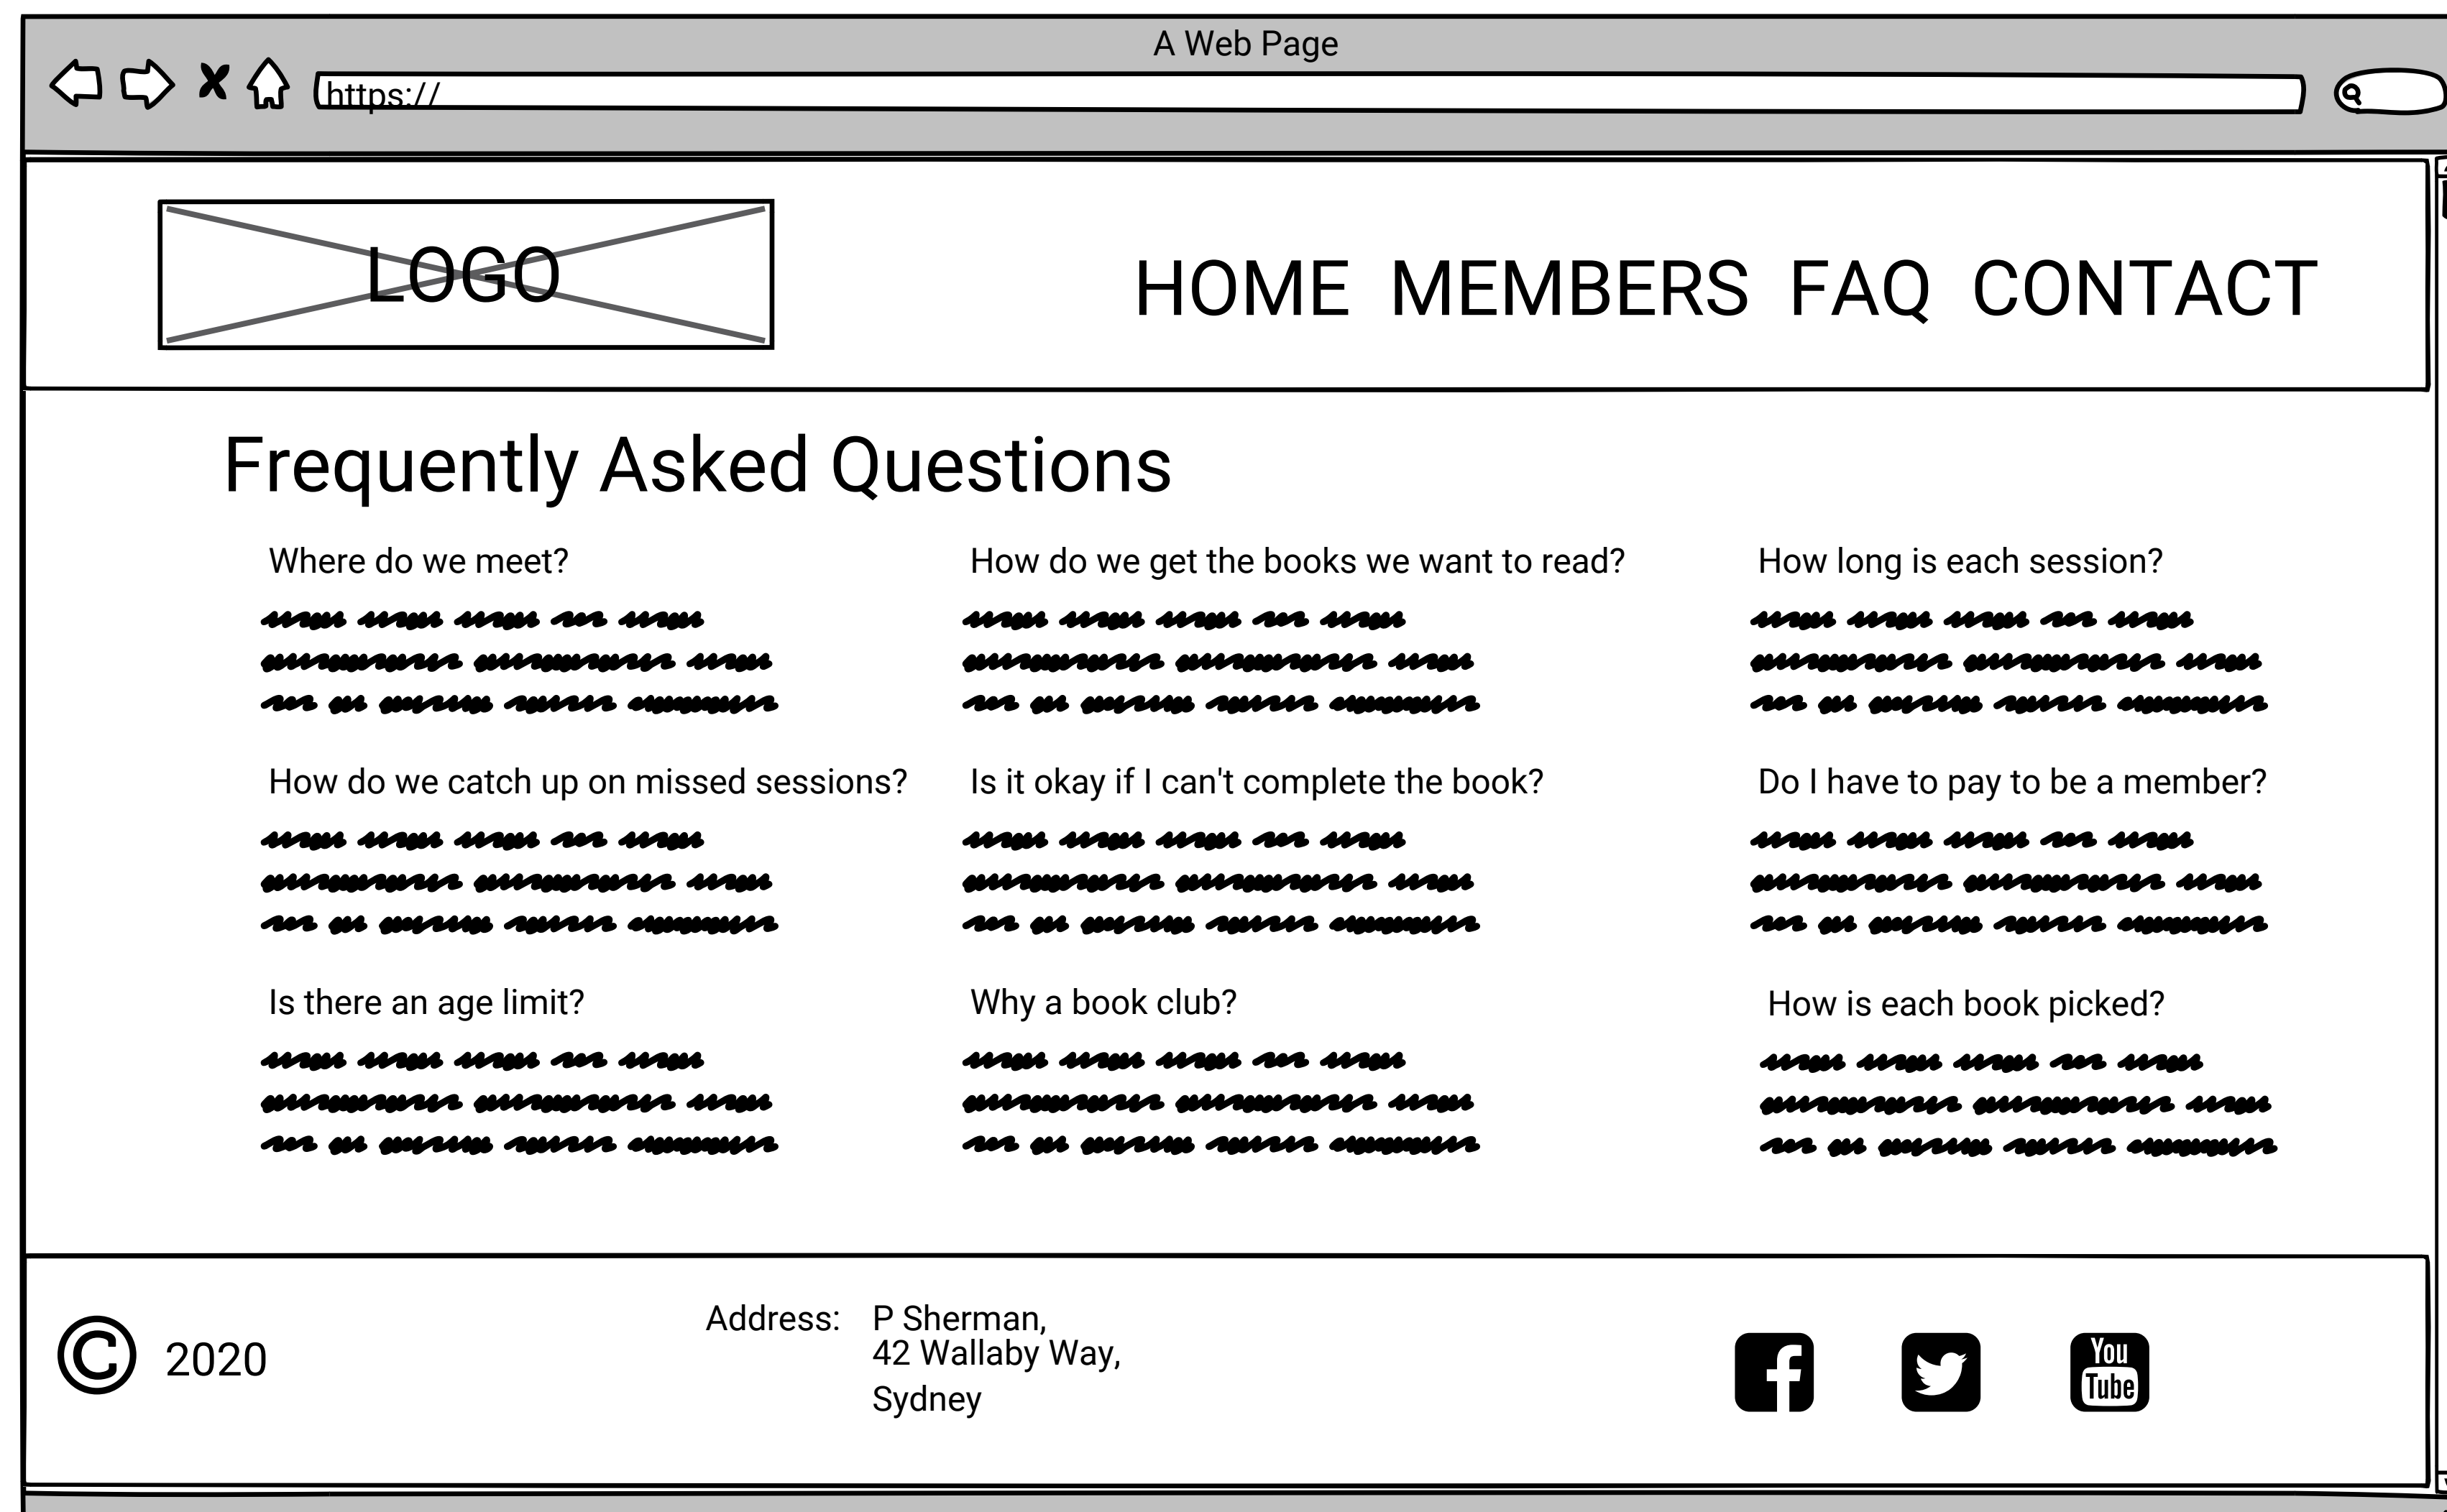

MEMBERS

The members page will feature photos of the members, their name, and the current book they are reading for the next meeting. The member photo will be circular rather than a box. A small gallery with a few photos will feature the members meeting up and enjoying the club meetings. In mobile view the gallery will feature below the "meet our members" content.

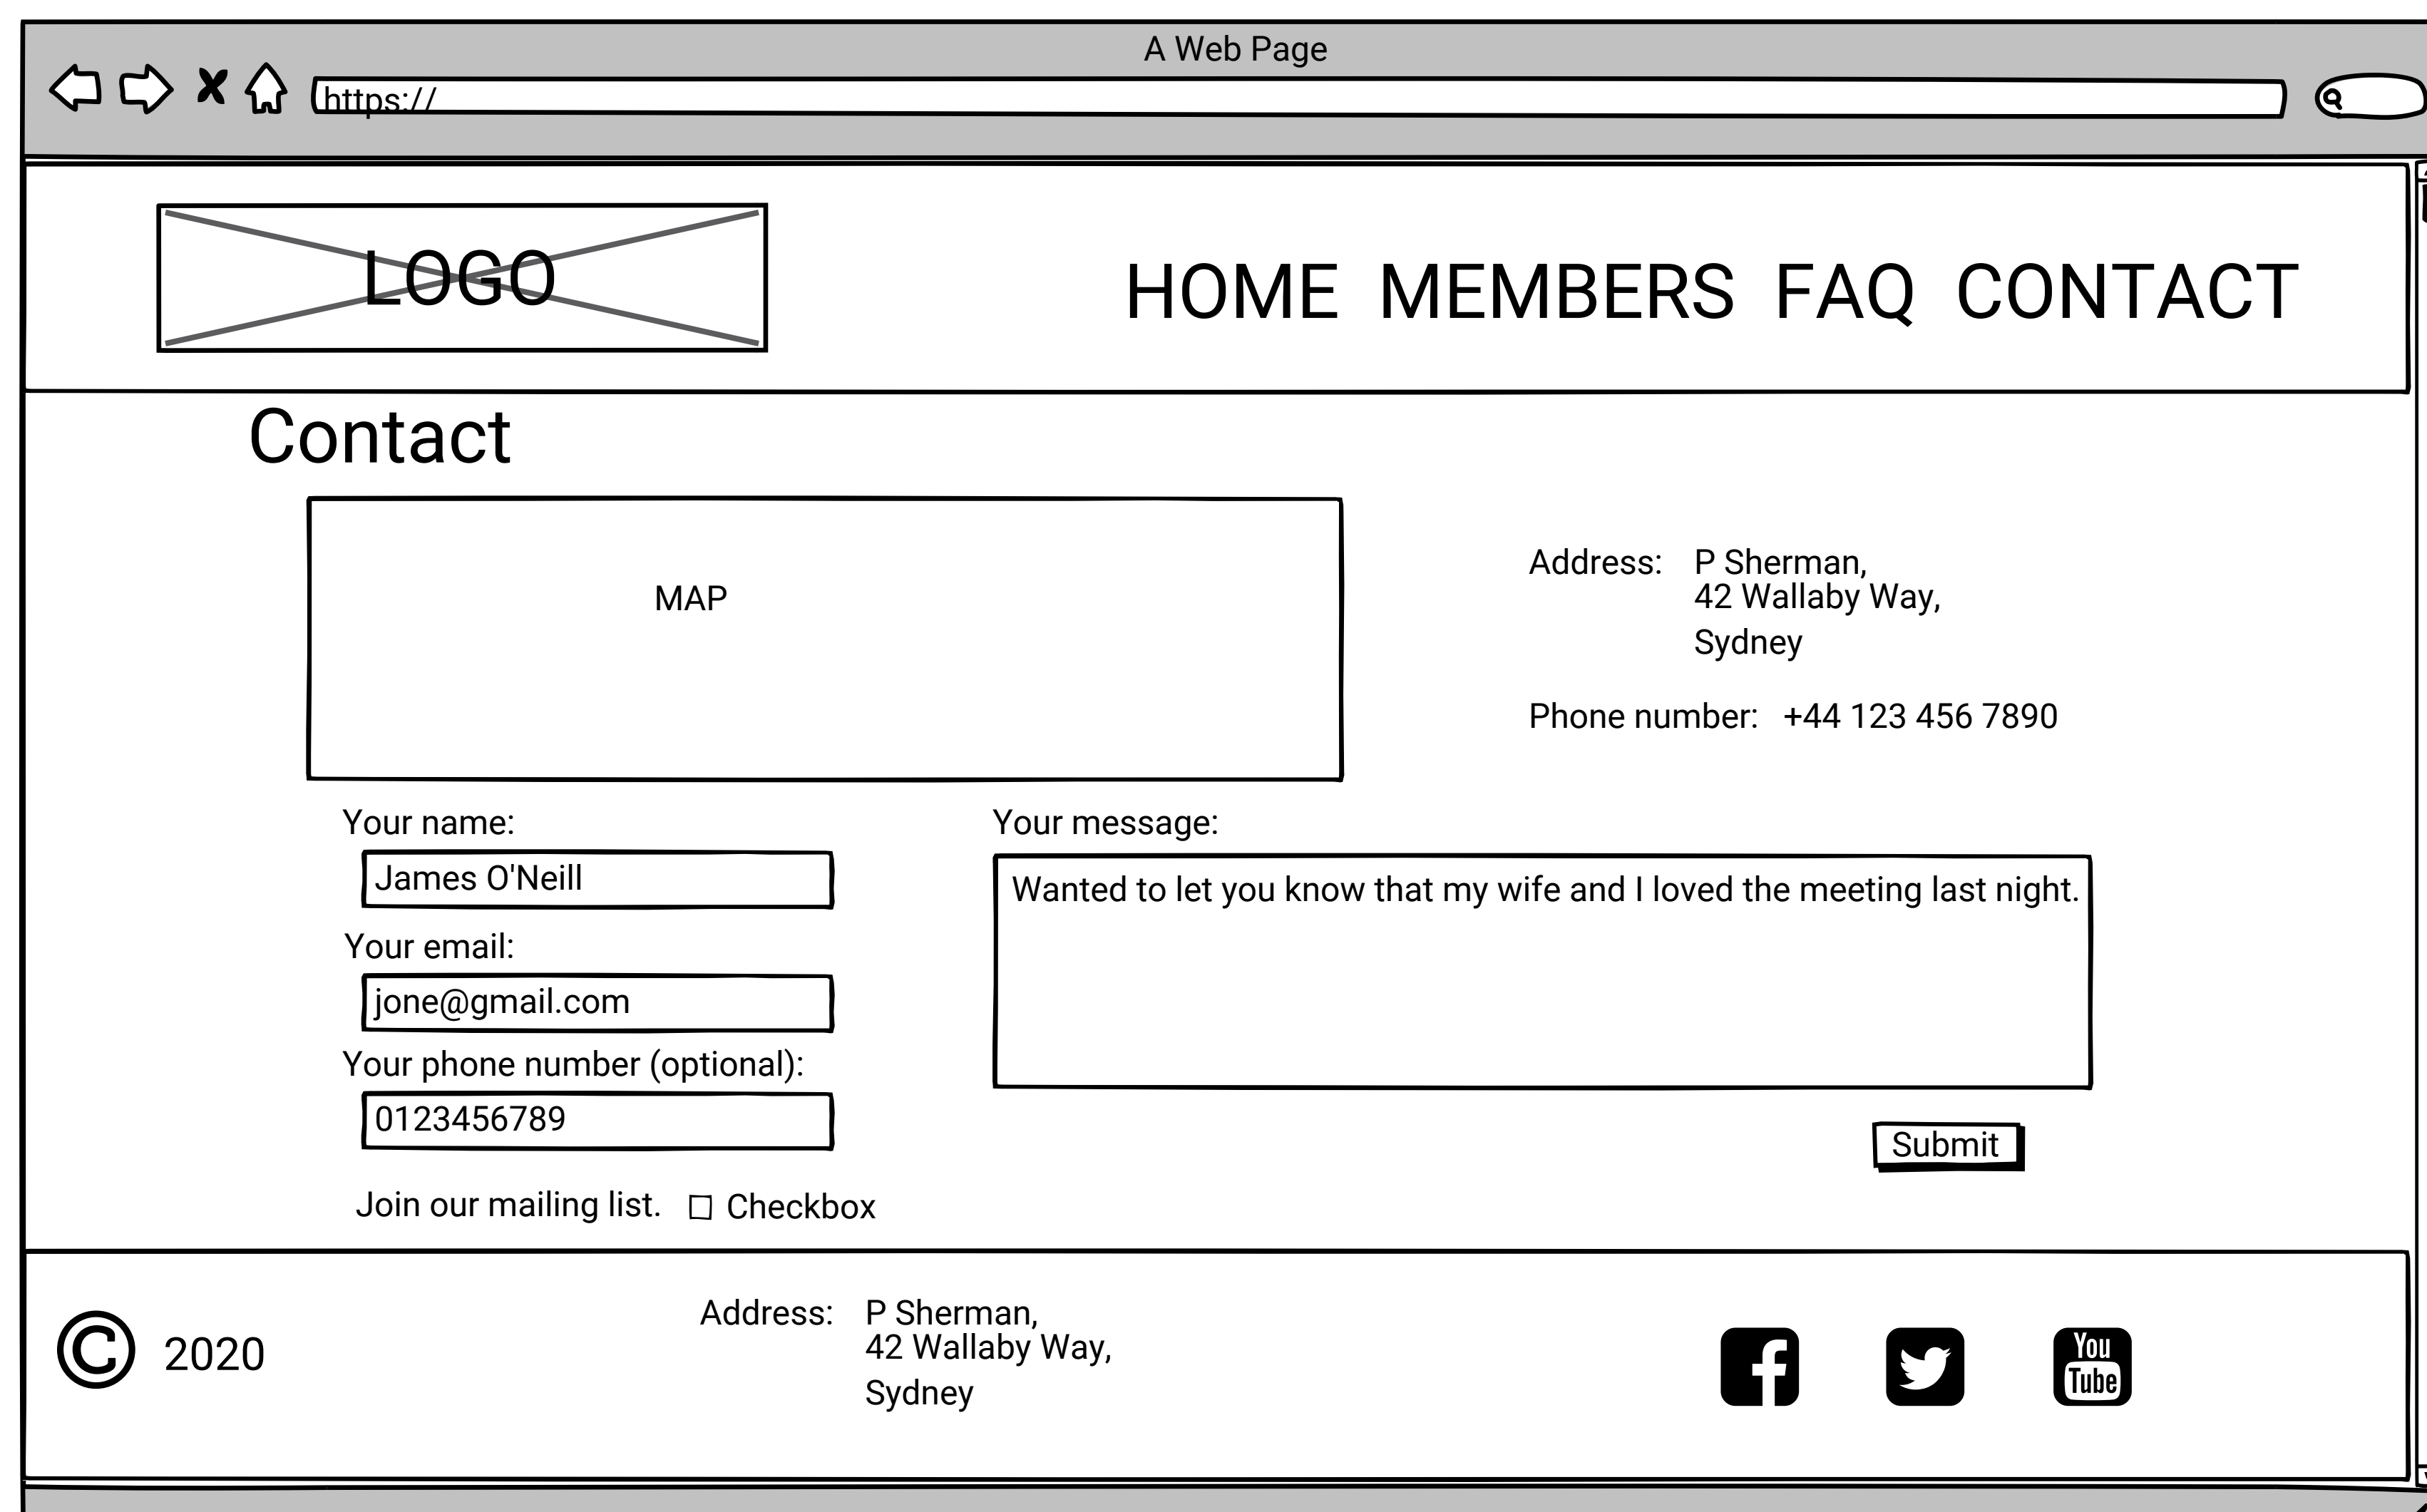

FAQ

The FAQ page will feature some common questions that the club leaders are asked by people who are interested in joining the club. This page will give some quick answers to users who have some important common questions to ask but don't have the time to contact the club leaders.

Contact

The contact page will feature a map so that users can calculate how far the venue is from them. It will contain an address and phone number. Below these will be a form where a user may fill in their name, email, phone number, join the mailing list, and a box where questions can be asked or reviews left.
